

THE SONG:

SAM

I can be anything that you want me to be

Spoken

No, actually that's a lie.

Though there are reasons why you should love me,

There are others that will make you say goodbye.

Let's start with the good stuff, to get you on side

Then I'll reveal the things I would much rather hide.

Because once you've heard what makes me great,

You might decide, that the other stuff can wait.

So first off, I'm hilarious.

I'm also an Aquarius.

You can fit me in your pocket,

Yes I'm small but please don't mock it.

I'm mostly optimistic

And my dancing is terrific,

You might say it's like Beyonce's

Though that might seem like a cliché.

LAUREN

I have plans, I don't want to be a bum.

I love sequins and I'm taller than some.

I've got banter and a love for cats.

And I'm ginger, if you're into that.

I'll make friends with your friends,

And you can share my hoodies.

I once put out a fire

And when I'm drunk I give the goodies...

I fill the silence when I'm nervous, I've got an honest heart.

I'm reliable and I'm not flaky.

One thing I can promise you, if you want to make a start,

I'll love you more than you love me.

SAM

So yes, I know it seems I'm perfect, But I do have some flaws.

I'm sure that you don't want to hear them all...

Spoken

Oh you do, great.

I have trust issues, I'm hairy.

My feet smell and I'm scary.

I have stumpy legs and mood swings.

Anti social; I don't do things.

When I get too close I panic,
Too much sass and I'm quite manic.
I'm not a morning person,
Career comes first of that I'm certain.

I like gravy, gravy cannot fail.
My voice is deeper than the average female.
I'm over sensitive and my chest is flat.

LAUREN

And I'm ginger, if you're not into that.

I'm a psycho, I have freak outs,
And I'm not very girly.
I'm not sure that I want children
And right now is way too early...

I'm always right and I'm high maintenance, I struggle with change.
Some people say that I'm quite dopey.
And one thing I must say to you, as much as you might try,

BOTH

I'll love you more than you love me.
Yes I'll love you more than you love me.
